Essay

Living in a small rural town, there are not many academic options. The ability to attend a larger college with more educational options is exactly what I have been searching for. It is also difficult for my family to pay for college because we are in a financial situation that doesn't qualify us for financial aid, and college remains too expensive for us to pay outright, so I am seeking scholarship support. Plus, I have a brother in college.

Receiving this scholarship will help me attend an academically rigorous college that will challenge me and set me on a strong career path. St. Olaf is known for its strong professors and many academic pathways. St. Olaf staff will provide me with guidance and support to find my path forward during and after college. I plan to study economics with an emphasis in finance, which will give me many options after graduation. Not only that, but I will also be able to play golf at this college. I have also auditioned for their choir, so I plan to be very involved on campus and take advantage of all the opportunities they offer.

After completing my bachelor's degree, I would like to use my education to help others. I am considering two possibilities. One includes possibly working for a nonprofit organization. I have been volunteering at the Good Samaritan Food Pantry since May. I have seen so many of our community members suffer from food insecurity. Many people in our community use the food pantry, and those numbers continue to grow as costs rise. Many nonprofit employees have limited financial knowledge. They are extremely strong in the entity's programmatic work. I could use my financial knowledge to help the nonprofit and those who use its services. For Good Sam specifically, I would also develop a marketing plan to encourage volunteers and community members to donate food items at designated times.

I am also considering enlisting in the military after college as an officer. I have had many different influential people in my life who have served our country, and they inspire me. A specific person who has influenced this idea is my Papa, Gary Crowley. He was drafted during the Vietnam War, and hearing his stories and experiences in the Army has motivated me to possibly follow in his footsteps. Military experience, coupled with my economics degree, could make me a very strong candidate for civilian government service or political office after my service.

Letter of Recommendation: Amita Crowley

To Whom It May Concern:

It is with high praise that I recommend Amita Crowley as a recipient of your scholarship. I have known Amita for many years and find her to be very intelligent and motivated. I have had the privilege of teaching her three times: college algebra and college trigonometry her sophomore year and physics her junior year. All were concurrent enrollment courses taught in conjunction with Pueblo Community College. Concurrent enrollment classes are highly rigorous and often taught at an accelerated pace, but Amita had no difficulty excelling and earning an A in all three. Amita typically fills her schedule with honors, advanced placement, and college classes. At the end of her junior year, she had earned 29 college credits and plans on taking 18 more her senior year. Amita's academic record highlights her dedication to her educational success. She is currently ranked second in her graduating class of 116 students, with a cumulative grade point average of 4.30. Amita cares deeply about her success and holds extremely high expectations for herself. She is both thorough and timely in her work. I know that when Amita submits a paper, she has given 100% because if she doesn't understand a concept, she takes the initiative to seek additional help so that she can submit quality work on time.

Amita is able to skillfully balance her school and personal life. In addition to her academic pursuits Amita is involved in many extracurricular activities, works part-time, and volunteers in her community. Amita is a valuable member of the organizations to which she belongs because she doesn't just participate, but takes an active leadership role. She is not content to simply belong, but gives her all. She is a three-time state qualifier for women's golf, was best supporting actress and a featured actress in two of the theater department plays, is on the board of the high school thespian troupe, and has been awarded numerous choir and band awards. Amita is successful in all her endeavors because she knows how to prioritize her commitments and utilizes her time wisely. She doesn't waste time, but works diligently in class so that she has time outside of school for her other activities. She is extremely personable, works well with anyone she is partnered with, and is well-liked by both her teachers and her peers.

Amita has what it takes to be successful in college. She is intelligent and hard-working. She is intrinsically motivated to succeed and takes responsibility for her own learning. She is a driven student who will not settle, but will do what is needed to graduate with honors in her chosen field of study. I sincerely hope that Amita receives your full consideration when awarding your scholarship money as she is an amazing young woman and a gifted scholar.

Dear Scholarship Committee,

I am writing to wholeheartedly recommend a deserving young woman Amita Crowley for your esteemed scholarship program. I have had the privilege of knowing Amita for the last few years, and during that time, I have come to deeply admire her character, work ethic, and commitment to making a positive impact in her community.

As a student, Amita demonstrates not only intelligence and curiosity but also an exceptional drive to succeed. Her ability to balance rigorous academic coursework, including Advanced Placement and College level courses, with extracurricular involvement, is a testament to her discipline and time management skills. Whether leading the Montezuma-Cortez Women's Golf team as a three-time state qualifier, taking on leading roles for the MCHS Theater Department, receiving numerous choir honors including Colorado All-State Choir, volunteering for the City of Cortez Golf Advisory Committee or unselfishly donating her time to the local Good Samaritan Food Pantry she consistently shows determination, integrity and a genuine desire to make a difference.

What sets Amita apart is her genuine kindness and willingness to help others. I've seen firsthand how she supports her peers academically and emotionally, always offering a listening ear or a helping hand. She leads by example and brings out the best in those around her.

I am confident that Amita will continue to excel and represent the values your scholarship upholds. She is exactly the kind of person who will make the most of this opportunity and give back to their community in meaningful ways.

Thank you for considering this outstanding candidate. Please feel free to contact me if you require any further information.

Sincerely,

J Samuel Jarvis
