In fall of 2026 I will be attending Texas Tech University as a sophomore in college. With a plan to earn a bachelors in Biology and my doctorate in Veterinary Medicine. I want to be a large animal veterinarian because of my background and love for horses and cattle. Not only do I want to be a veterinarian but I want to be a surgeon for these animals. That takes extensive study time and thousands of dollars. I can't remember a time when I wasn't around animals. For most of my life my mom and I lived on a small farm in rural Colorado. My grandparents own the place I call home. I was blessed with multiple lessons and responsibilities around the farm. And grew up: feeding, watering, grooming, branding, vaccinating, and knowing the responsibilities caring for livestock demands.

My mother is a single mom who has raised me and the animals I grew up with. I am very thankful for the opportunities I have been presented with. My parents divorced when I was three and my dad passed away when I was 16. It has really only been my mom and me for as long as I can remember. My mom has taught me resilience, determination, and work ethic. She has always helped and gave me as much as she could. Seeing her work so hard to take care of the animals and me is the reason why I have the passion and drive for my education. Just like my grandparents I would love to give back to her for everything she has done for me.

Living out in a rural area there aren't many large animal veterinarians. Being around livestock all my life, I know that you don't need a vet until you absolutely need one. Not only do I want to become a veterinarian to help the animals in desperate need. But I also want to give back to the community and people who have taught me everything I know about those animals. My grandparents deserve so much more but when I am able to get my doctorate in veterinary medicine I want to come back home and help them. Large animal travel veterinarians are more needed than regular veterinarians because many people aren't able to get to the hospital on time. So rather than allowing the animal to suffer more by trying to load them up. I would be able to come to them and hopefully save the animal from passing and the owners the heartbreak.

Texas Tech University recently built a state of the art veterinary program. That is where I plan to further my education and knowledge. As we all know any type of undergraduate or doctorate school takes thousands of dollars. Most of that money I have to take out in student loans. As much as my mom and grandparents love me. They cannot support me through any of my schooling. I am currently paying for school on my own and with my plan to get my doctorate in veterinary medicine that is more money I have to pay. I have no access to additional financial aid due to my father passing away and no other family members that are able to help. Receiving this scholarship would be greatly appreciated. Not only by me but by all of my future clients who I will be able to help. This scholarship would be a big part of helping me achieve my goals of being a travel large animal veterinarian.

Thank you for taking the time to read a little bit about my life and goals. And thank you for your time and consideration of my application. Please contact me for any further information or questions.

Sincerely,

Karlee Hubbs

To Whom It May Concern:

It is my pleasure to write this letter of recommendation on behalf of Miss Karlee Hubbs. I have known Karlee for the past 12 years. I met Karlee when she was a second grader in my class at Kemper Elementary.

I have enjoyed watching Karlee grow into an admirable young lady. She is responsible, dedicated, respectful and ambitious. I also observed her active participation in her education and school activities. Karlee has always exhibited a strong desire to do well in school. She has had many academic awards while attending grade school, middle school and high school. She has also been involved in numerous extracurricular activities. It was a pleasure to watch her participate in many school sporting events and excel in her academic achievements. She has indeed demonstrated excellence in all aspects of her education, teamwork and athletics.

I am proud to recommend Miss Karlee Hubbs as a candidate for this scholarship. She will be an excellent candidate for your program.

If you have any questions, please do not hesitate to contact me.

Sincerely yours,

Debbie Garner

I am writing in support of Karlee Hubbs in her application for a scholarship in order for her to further her college education. She has chosen to pursue a career in veterinarian medicine and has proven herself as a dedicated student. During her freshman year at Boise State in the fall of 2025, she had made Dean's Academic Honor list as recognition to her outstanding GPA. Prior to attending college, she attended a summer college internship at the Colorado State Veterinarian College, which only solidified her lifelong devotion to animals and their wellbeing. In addition to her schoolwork, she was captain of her high school varsity volleyball, showing leadership to her teammates and great sportsmanship to opposing teams. Karlee is an outstanding individual and I respectfully request that you award Karlee with this scholarship. It will provide her with the ability to continue her education and assist with her degree in veterinary medicine. She is a great person that will serve her community in an impactful way in the years to come.

To: Empire Electric Association Scholarship Committee

I am writing this letter in support of Karlee Hubbs. I had the privilege of meeting Karlee in August of 2025 when she enrolled in my English 101 class at Boise State University where I currently serve as a Lecturer in the First Year Writing Program within the English department. And she is currently enrolled in my English 102 course. Based on these past months of working closely with Karlee, I strongly believe she would be a worthy recipient of your scholarship and make effective use of the opportunity your company provides.

Karlee has demonstrated a serious commitment and work ethic surrounding my class and her academics overall. She enrolled in a class that required an additional one hour per week of study that is not required by the university, but can be taken to further the depth of work. From the first day, Karlee sat in the center front row and came prepared, engaged, and was an active participant in course discussions. It was obvious that she wanted to excel in her academic work. In small group workshops, she often led the groups and reported their findings back to the class. Karlee not only took her own studies seriously, but was an active listener to her peers, where she offered encouragement and insight into their own work.

While maintaining her high academic commitment and performance, it is also evident from working closely with Karlee that while academic success is important and she is driven to succeed, she demonstrates insight and compassion regarding her fellow students. That sense of compassion and empathy shows itself daily and is appreciated not only by myself, but her fellow classmates.

I have no hesitation in recommending Karlee as a student and more importantly as a compassionate and caring human being. She has expressed repeatedly to me her desire to become a large animal veterinarian, not only to help the animals she treats, but as importantly to provide support for the people that share those animal's lives. It is my strong belief that if given the opportunity she would make effective and appreciative use of the financial assistance your company generously provides in support of college students. It is, and has been my privilege to work with and come to know Karlee Hubbs.

Please feel free to contact me for any further information.

Sincerely,

Mark Horton
